

We are a one-stop-shop for all your business development and training needs, based in Seoul, South Korea.

Accent on Training is a Seoul-based business development and workforce training company delivering high-impact, turnkey solutions across a range of industries. We specialize in business skills development, workforce training, and English language provision for sectors including manufacturing, engineering, electronics, hospitality, cosmetics, and construction.

Since our founding in 2012, we have partnered with organizations across automotive, food production, technology, fabrication, and education - helping them build capable, confident, and globally competitive teams.

Recognizing English as the global language of business, we deliver all training in English. This dual-impact approach not only strengthens participants' communication skills but also accelerates their confidence and fluency in real-world professional environments.

We understand that no two organizations are the same. That's why we design tailored training strategies aligned to each client's industry, workforce, and objectives. Our commitment is simple: deliver results that are on time, on budget, and precisely on target.
